* IMPORTANT NOTICE

Key Information and Key Objectives are targets, not guarantees. The Targeted Distribution of 5.0% and the Target Quarterly Payouts of 1.25% per quarter are targets based on the prevailing yields at the time of constructing the portfolio. Yields and the distribution may rise or fall during the life of the product depending on market movements and portfolio management of the underlying bonds.

Target Payout Calendar is indicative. The first quarterly distribution in July 2019 is based on 2 months' coupon accumulation. The final quarterly distribution is based on two months' coupon accumulation. Principal is expected to be repaid in full at maturity but can be lower or higher due to market and/or credit-related events. Principal can vary due to profit and loss, realized or unrealized gains, whether or not net of realized or unrealized losses, any coupons or distributions received from the underlying bonds, interest earned, any other cash receipts and capital.

Monthly Comment

The financial markets maintained a positive momentum in December as investors' sentiment was boosted by news of vaccine rollout and by failure of Trump legal team to overturn US election results. The successful agreement on Brexit was another positive signal for investors.

While market action indicates that investors are pricing a relatively quick return to normality, the path to recovery may still be bumpy. Major western economies continue to be on lockdown as active virus cases in North America, UK and EU near or exceed the highs seen during the first wave. Consequently, the global economic data is likely to disappoint in the near term and delays in the vaccine rollout might give investors a further cause for concern.

MENA bonds outperformed in December during the year-end on higher oil prices and on progress made in the region in tackling COVID Covid-19 crisis. We expect oil prices to be supported around current levels on continued cooperation between OPEC+ members and on opening up of global economies as a result of vaccine rollout.

In December the fund posted a positive performance of +1.75% with the year-to-date standing at +1.7% and since inception performance standing at +6.9%.
