*Independent Auditors' Report on Review of Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Information
30 September 2026*

Scope of Review

We conducted our review in accordance with the International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity". A review of condensed consolidated interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying 30 September 2026 condensed consolidated interim financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34, 'Interim Financial Reporting'.

In preparing the condensed consolidated interim financial information, the significant judgments made by management in applying the Group’s accounting policies and the key sources of estimates uncertainty were the same as those which were applied to the audited consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 December 2025.

3.2.1 Amounts arising from ECL

In determining the expected credit loss (“ECL”) for the period ended 30 September 2026, the Group considered the potential effects of the ongoing geopolitical developments in the region, based on the best available information and measures under Resilience Program issued by the Central Bank of UAE.

Macroeconomic factors, forward looking information and multiple scenarios

IFRS 9 requires an unbiased and probability weighted estimate of credit losses by evaluating a range of possible outcomes that incorporates forecasts of future economic conditions.

Macroeconomic variables and forward-looking information are required to be incorporated into the measurement of ECL as well as the determination of whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since origination. Measurement of ECLs at each reporting period should reflect reasonable and supportable information at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions. The inputs and models used for calculating ECLs may not always capture all characteristics of the market at the date of the consolidated financial statements. To reflect this, qualitative adjustments or overlays are occasionally made as temporary adjustments when such differences are significantly material.

When estimating the ECLs, the Bank considers three scenarios (a base case, an upside and a downside) with a weightage of 40%, 30% and 30% respectively. Each of these is associated with different PDs. When relevant, the assessment of multiple scenarios also incorporates how defaulted financing are expected to be recovered, including the probability that the financing will cure and the value of collateral or the amount that might be received for selling the asset.

In measuring Expected Credit Losses (ECL) as at 30 September 2026, the Group applies base, upside and downside scenarios. The updated ECL models incorporate the effects of the more recent macroeconomic variables, with the baseline already reflecting the impact of regional conflict.

3.2 Judgments and estimates (continued)

3.2.1 Amounts arising from ECL (continued)

The most recent macroeconomic variables are also consistent with the range of macroeconomic views available from external sources, accordingly, support reverting to symmetric scenario weights of 30% for the upside, 40% for the base case and 30% for the downside. The Group will continue to monitor regional developments, market data and portfolio performance and reassess its assumptions, model inputs and overlays as appropriate. Actual outcomes may differ from the estimates applied at the reporting date.

DIB Group continues to maintain active business continuity frameworks and rigorous risk management practices to safeguard its operations. In response to these conditions, the Central Bank of the UAE (“CBUAE”) introduced the Financial Institution Resilience Package (“FIRP”) on 18 March 2026. During the period the Group provided formal relief measures under the FIRP, granting payment deferrals to certain corporate customers.

Assessment of significant increase in credit risk

Under IFRS 9, financial assets are transferred from Stage 1 to Stage 2 where there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. The assessment of significant increase in credit risk is based on changes in the risk of default over the expected life of the exposure and incorporates both quantitative and qualitative information.

As the current geopolitical uncertainty remains uncertain, the Group continues to closely monitor all portfolios, including retail in order to assess whether any financial difficulties experienced by customers are temporary, arising from the current circumstances, or whether they are indicative of a more sustained deterioration in creditworthiness.

The Group remains fully committed to participating in the CBUAE led Resilience Program, reflecting its determination to support customers through periods of uncertainty and to contribute to the stability and resilience of the UAE economy. As at 30 September 2026, payment deferral programs, comprising principal and profit deferrals in accordance with Resilience Program’s requirements, were under implementation. No significant payment deferrals were granted during the period, as these programs were in the initial phase of operational readiness and subject to customer eligibility and demand.

The Group continues to reassess the long-term viability of affected borrowers, and stage classification is determined in accordance with IFRS 9, the Credit Risk Management Standards (“CRMS”), the Group’s internal policies and applicable CBUAE guidelines.

19. Taxation

On 9 December 2022, the United Arab Emirates (UAE) Ministry of Finance (MoF) released Federal Decree-Law No 47 of 2022 on the Taxation of Corporations and Businesses, Corporate Tax Law ("CT Law") to enact a new CT regime in the UAE. The new CT regime became effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 June 2023. The Group is subject to CT Law starting 1 January 2024. The taxable income of the entities that are in scope for UAE CT purposes is subject to tax at 9%.

The effective tax rate (ETR) for the period ended 30 September 2026 is 14.2% which includes Top-up tax (30 September 2025: 14.1%). The deviation from the statutory tax rate is primarily driven by the geographical mix, Top-up tax and partly offset by certain exempt income and exempt gains under the CT Law in the UAE.

Aligning with the OECD's Global Minimum Tax effort (Pillar Two), the UAE MoF has announced certain amendments to the CT Law introducing a Domestic Minimum Top-Up Tax of 15% for Multinational Enterprises (MNEs) with effect from financial years starting on or after 01 January 2025. The Group is within the scope of Pillar Two legislation and as such is subject to the Pillar Two rules.

The Group applies the exception to recognizing and disclosing information about deferred tax assets and liabilities related to Pillar Two income taxes, as provided in the amendments to IAS 12 issued in May 2023.

The Group estimates current tax expense related to Pillar Two an amount of AED 327.8 million for the period ended 30 September 2026 (30 September 2025: AED 284.6 million). The Pillar Two impact is in relation to the entities operating in the UAE.
